Brian Alexander
President and CEO National World War I Museum

at Liberty Memorial

Keynote Lunch - Thursday, October 27
12:15 p.m. - 2:00 p.m.

With more than 30 years experience in museum management, Brian Alexander is President and CEO of the National World War I Museum at Liberty Memorial. Alexander was appointed to lead the organization by the Board of Trustees in November 2007. Alexander has provided strategic leadership which has dramatically changed the operation of the newly renovated Museum. With the eight key strategic goals from the strategic plan as a foundation, the Trustees and staff have set high aspirations in areas including an outstanding visitor experience, world-class historic collections, first-rate facilities, and a strong marketing plan. To accomplish these goals the plan also outlines a strategic fundraising plan.
